

PRESIDENT ASKED TO CALL SPECIAL CONGRESS SESSION

Telegram Sent By Senator Dill Of Washington Saturday.

ASKS LEGISLATION FOR FARM PRICES

Says Immediate Action Is Needed To Save Farmer From Bankruptcy.

Spokane, Wash., July 28.—United States Senator Clarence Dill, of Washington, in a telegram sent today to President Harding, urged that a special session of congress be called to enact legislation which will assure higher prices for farm products to farmers of the northwest.

and said in his message to the president that "only immediate laws enacted at a special session can save the farmers of the northwest from bankruptcy."

Des Moines, Ia., July 28.—The fight of Progressive Republicans for an extra session of congress is far from abandoned, Senator Smith W. Brookhart said today as he started for an off-fashioned country meeting where he was to address farmers much after the fashion in which he toured the state in his pre-election trips.

"With President Harding on United States soil proper, he may change his mind about the necessity of calling an extra session of congress," Brookhart declared with emphasis. "Senator McNary, of Oregon, is going to take up the matter with the president today. I believe President Harding will have to listen to reason. Conditions demand an extra session."

Discussing Price Drop

The recent fall in the market price of wheat was caused by Russia's big crop but could have been prevented if the American farmer had a cooperative selling agency to dispose of his crops, Brookhart said.

"The American farmer will some day be able to set the price of wheat the same as the big steel companies set the prices of steel," he declared.

"Could any of the existing farmer organizations bring about this?" Brookhart was asked.

"Not under present conditions," was the reply. "The farmer associations in this country need to be amalgamated into one gigantic whole where any real degree of united effort can be obtained."

When this unification is effected, the cooperative organization could force a high tariff to protect American wheat the same way a high steel tariff protects the steel manufacturers, Brookhart said.

The senator declared he had stated the soviet government of Russia was "the second most stable, not the second best."

Twenty thousand dollars of this stock has been subscribed for by citizens of Leetonia and vicinity and call for the first half of the stock subscription is now being made for the first of August.

WHITFIELD TRIAL WILL BE RESUMED MONDAY MORNING

State Expects To Complete Its Case Early Tuesday Morning.

Cleveland, July 28.—With court closed, and the jury closely guarded, the trial of John L. Whitfield, indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Patrolman Dennis Griffin last May, was marking time today.

Hearing of testimony will be resumed Monday morning and, unless cross examination of state witnesses consumes considerable time, the state will complete its case either late Monday or early Tuesday morning.

Marie Agnes Price, whose fight with Whitfield resulted in the latter's arrest in Madison, Wis., a week following the killing of the policeman, will take the stand for the state Tuesday, according to a statement by Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton today.

Monday's testimony will be along the lines of establishing that Griffin was in the performance of his duty on the morning of May 11, when he arrested Whitfield on a charge of theft. Lieut. Nelson J. Meeker, who assigned him to make the arrest, and Patrolman Harry Hughes, who had maintained an all-night vigil at Whitfield's East 94th st. home, will be offered by the state to prove this claim, which is important in view of the fact that indictment was drawn under a statute which makes the killing of a policeman in the discharge of his duty, murder in the first degree, regardless of whether or not premeditation is proved.

The state scored heavily yesterday when Coroner P. A. Hammond testified that in his opinion Griffin was killed with a .45 calibre bullet. This sustains the state contention that the shooting was done with Whitfield's weapon, and not, as the defendant claims, with that carried by the police officer, which was of .38-calibre.

Dewey Briggs, Chicago garage owner, another state witness, is expected to testify that Whitfield sold him a .45-calibre weapon following his escape from officers at Madison, Wis.

"Safety First" Patches For New York Cops.

Father Of 57 Held In California

Dr. H. B. Allen and Mrs. Helen Cruze. Below: Myrtle Cruze and Myrtle Enloe.

A sensation has been caused by the arrest, in Los Angeles, Cal., of Dr. Helen B. Allen, who posed as the philanthropic manager of schools for mountain children in Virginia and North Carolina.

It is ascertained that Dr. Allen, who has adopted 57 boys and girls—mostly girls—between 13 and 17, secured more than $200,000 from charitable inclined persons in Pittsburgh and in Ohio for his schools.

It is charged he took Mrs. Helen Cruze, a young divorcee; Myrtle Cruze, 17, and Myrtle Enloe, 18, to California, in violation of the Mann white slave laws.

California dispatches indicate that revelations that will surpass those of the "House of David" may be expected.

Klan Offers Reward in McDevitt Case

Lisbon, July 28.—The posting of $500 reward for the apprehension of the men who ran down or assaulted Raymond McDevitt, by the county Ku Klux Klan in addition to the $50 offered by the Knights of Pythias lodge of Lisbon, has increased the activity in the case on the part of amateur detectives and local officers here. It is possible that there will be developments within a short time.

EXAM FOR COUNTY HOME AUGUST 17

The date for the examination by the civil service commission of candidates for the office of superintendent and matron of the Columbiana county home, has been set for Friday August 17, according to notification sent by the state civil service officials to Commissioners Clerk L. H. Johnson.

161,228 Ford Autos Delivered In June. Increase Of 32,201

Detroit, July 28.—Domestic retail deliveries of the Ford Motor Co. for the month of June were 161,228 cars and trucks, an increase of 32,201 over the same month a year ago, it is announced.

Dealer's requirements on hand the first of June called for an excess of 313,000 cars and trucks, but production through running at the highest schedule in the company's history, could not meet all these orders.

The June sales bring the total of Ford cars and truck deliveries in the United States for the first six months of 1923 up to the enormous figure of 749,765, an increase of 354,975 or about 65 per cent over the same period last year.

The increased volume of car buying, at least so far as it relates to the Ford promises to continue.

A total of 17,774 Ford trucks were delivered to retail customers in June, an increase of more than 6,000 over the same month a year ago, and truck sales for the six months since Jan. 1 total 97,123, a gain of nearly 50 per cent above the same months of 1922.

Another feature which shows that present prosperity is general in the agricultural sections is the increasing demand for Fordson tractors. While industry is rapidly adapting the Fordson for power uses, about 90 per cent of the output goes to the farms. Sales of Fordsons for the first six months totaled 44,023, an increase of nearly 8,000 over the same period last year.

Rev. Coffin Will Sail For Missionary Field

First Friends Church Pastor Will Become Evangelistic Missionary At Nowgong, India; Rev. Charles Haworth Of Van Wert Succeeds To Pastorate Here.

Rev. M. M. Coffin, pastor of the First Friends church, who with his family will leave early in September for Nowgong, India, to engage in evangelistic missionary work, will preach his farewell sermon Sunday, August 12. He will conduct a special song service Sunday evening, August 5.

Rev. Mr. Coffin came to Salem last autumn from Alliance where he served as pastor of the First Friends church for several years, to serve the local church until early in this year when the family had planned to leave for India. Owing to the ill health of Mrs. Coffin and their infant daughter, it was necessary to postpone the trip at that time.

Under Rev. Mr. Coffin's ministry the church has grown and its services have increased in interest and attendance. The singing of Mr. and Mrs. Coffin has been much enjoyed by both the members and those outside the congregation.

The Coffins have not only endeared themselves to this congregation but made many friends in this city. The church regrets very much losing Mr. Coffin as its pastor but was only willing to give him up because he felt definitely called to the work in India.

While Mr. Coffin's work in his new field will be evangelistic and with the native preachers, he will aid with his medical knowledge, having studied medicine for two years in the Colorado State university and last summer took a short course for outgoing missionaries at Livingstone college, London, England.

In the district in which Mr. Coffin will labor there are 4,200 villages with a population of 1,000,000.

While at Hughesville, Pa., camp-meeting just recently, a fund was started to buy an automobile for Mr. Coffin for use in his work. With this he would be enabled to do the work of five, as the usual method is by cart and very slow.

Rev. Charles Haworth of Van Wert will succeed Rev. Mr. Coffin assuming charge of the pastorate here the first of September.

Rev. Mr. Haworth is editor of the Friends Herald and comes to Salem highly recommended.

SLIPPERY ROADS CAUSE ACCIDENTS

Three Auto Accidents In And Near Salem Saturday Morning.

Slippery streets and roads were the cause of three auto accidents in and near Salem Saturday morning.

William Slayton of this city, driving a large touring car, crashed into another machine at the corner of Garfield ave. and Superior st., the scene of the fatal accident last Tuesday, when he attempted to apply the brakes as he saw the other car turn on to Garfield ave. Slayton endeavored to turn his car further to the right of the street, passersby stated, but on the brakes too quickly and the large car swung around to the left of the street crashing into the other car which was not damaged.

Slayton's car was badly wrecked and was towed to the Chalfant garage. The identity of the driver of the other car was not learned.

Returning from a western trip a New York man and his wife failed to negotiate the Millville hill east of the city Saturday morning and ran into the ditch on the right side of the road. A wheel was torn off the car and the fenders smashed. The occupants of the car were not injured.

Shortly afterwards a West Virginia driver, seeing the wreck of the other car on the hill tried to stop his car as he came along but the slippery road caused the car to skid into the ditch just back of the first car that was wrecked. The machine was not badly damaged and the owner was able to proceed home after minor repairs.

"No more war" was the slogan of all the celebrations.

Thirty thousand men and women took part in the demonstration in London. There was a procession to Hyde Park where speeches were made condemning war.

All classes of people took part. Sybil Thorndyke led a delegation of stage folk. Rev. Maude Crofton, of one woman preacher in England, was in the procession. There were many prominent labor leaders.

It was just nine years ago that the Central powers declared war upon Serbia, this being the first of a long series of war declarations.

Crabbe Rules School Examiners Body May Revoke Certificates

Columbus, July 28.—Atty. Gen. Crabbe today in an opinion given to the state board of school examiners, held that the board has power to revoke "for good cause" a certificate by it.

The opinion relates, it was stated, to the case of School Supt. C. B. Clifton, Coshocton, who holds a life certificate to teach and who was accused of falsely claiming that F. D. McCullough, Cleveland, had graduated from high school.

Following an investigation the state supreme court revoked the right of McCullough to practice law in the state of Ohio after he had passed the state bar examination. It was stated at the school clerk's office.

RITCHIE GRANTED JURY TRIAL FOR ASSAULT CHARGE

Court Room Crowded Friday Night When Constable Pleads Not Guilty.

MAYOR SETS TRIAL FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Youth Accused Of Carrying Weapons Will Be Returned Home.

When the defense asked for a jury trial, the trial of Constable Earl Ritchie, charged with assaulting and menacing Paul Walker, or Callahan as he is sometimes known, Thursday afternoon, was postponed until 7 p. m. Tuesday at the preliminary hearing of the case in Mayor John W. Post's court Friday night.

Atty. Joel Sharp, counsel for the defense, stated after the charge had been read by the mayor to Ritchie and he had pleaded not guilty, that the defense demanded a jury trial. Mayor Post granted the request and a crowd that filled the court room to capacity and overflowed into the corridors was disappointed.

At least a dozen witnesses were on hand to testify for both Ritchie and Walker. They were part of the large throng that gathered to watch the two men Thursday when after a heated discussion between the officer and the plaintiff it is alleged by Walker that Ritchie assaulted him and acted in a manner unbecoming to an officer.

The trial promises to develop into one of the most interesting the city has witnessed for many months. The first venire of 25 persons will be called Monday, from which a jury will be selected. Unless both sides exercise pre-emptory challenges the jury will be in the box Tuesday night ready for the trial to start.

Other Police Court Cases

Joseph F. Woerther withdrew charges against George Lippert whom he accused of the theft of $25 worth of apples from his property a week ago. Woerther had a warrant sworn out for Lippert, who denied the charge. Friday night after a conference with Mayor Post Woerther withdrew the charge.

George Bowman New Brighton, Pa., who was arrested by Nightwatchman Earl Ritchie Thursday night charged with carrying concealed weapons and acting in a suspicious manner, will be taken to his home today by his parents who were notified and wired that they would come Saturday to take the accused boy back to New Brighton.

It is understood that Bowman will not be prosecuted even though a revolver was found on his person.

KLAN BURNS CROSS ON MAIN STREET

Display Here Reported As Advertising Gathering In Alliance.

Friday night the Ku Klux Klan illuminated Salem streets and country roads with fiery crosses, supposedly to advertise the big Klan rally at Alliance Saturday night, and also the Salem Klan meeting which is reported scheduled for Monday night.

At the corner of Garfield ave. and Main st., a large cross was burned shortly before midnight in the middle of the street intersection. Passersby found the charred cross Saturday morning.

On the Benton rd. a large cross caused a rumor to spread that there was a big Klan meeting in progress in fields near the city.

A curious crowd collected about midnight but no trace could be found of the reported klansmen or of any of the reported crosses that were supposed to be burning in the vicinity and did not know who had set the cross on fire.

Prepare For Peace
Editor of The News:

This week end marks another anniversary of the beginning of the terrible World war and is a time when we should pause and consider seriously the problem of whether there shall ever be another destructive conflict.

Scientists and military men are united in the opinion that, should there be another World war, the destruction would be many times greater and more terrible than the last; and the human mind cannot conceive of the length of time it would take to recover therefrom. Will it pay, then, to allow that way to come. Or would it not be better to take definite action and to make every possible effort toward a safer and saner way of settling world difficulties?

It is not so many years ago that individuals in our own United States settled their personal differences by the gun method. But, happily for us, that time has passed. It is now unlawful for private citizens to carry firearms. True, some people do it or there would not be so many murders. But the nation brands such a settlement of differences as ignorant, vicious and uncivilized.

In the same way, our government has refused to legalize the saloon and its destructive policies. That it takes more than law to change the hearts of men is clearly shown by the many cases of law violators. But what for ward-looking citizen would desire to return to the old days of the saloon protected by the United States government?

With these definite advances to remind us that "all things are possible" if we but will them to be, why not set ourselves the task of making law and justice rule between nations as well as between individuals. Let us speed the day when law, not war will settle all international as well as national as well as national difficulties.

Things to Know About Our Service

No Vacation for Electric Light

THE last hours before you went away (that night you worked so late getting the trunk closed) and the first moment you entered the house on your return, electric service was on the job.

Had you come home unexpectedly a week or a day sooner, the light would have been there just the same, to welcome you at a touch of a button in the hall.

Ice, milk, provisions, the daily paper—all these had to be gathered together again from several sources. But electricity was waiting. No vacation * * no holidays * * no afternoons or evenings off. Seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day electricity works for you. What servant or other employee keeps as long hours and renders as great service at the price?

SUPREME COURT BADLY CROWDED

CHIEF TRIBUNAL OF THE LAND HAS OUTGROWN ITS QUARTERS IN THE CAPITOL.

CONGRESS MAY GIVE RELIEF

New Offices Could Have Been Built Before This Had Members of the Court Been United in Asking for Them.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—The Supreme Court of the United States has outgrown its historic quarters in the capitol, and the question of what to do about it has become acute.

Conditions are such, by reason of the vast accumulation of records and documents of the court, and the increased business of this, the foremost judicial tribunal of the land, that it has hardly room to turn around. Though it is in many respects the most powerful court in the civilized world, with the power of veto over the acts of congress and of executive officials, a number of the inferior courts of the country are more commodiously provided for, so far as quarters are concerned.

Indications are that congress will soon provide for a new Supreme Court building near the capitol on a location close to the Library of Congress, or that there will be an addition built to the capitol itself for the purpose of affording proper housing for the court.

Court Divided on Moving.

It is a strange fact that it is only because the court itself has been unwilling thus far to ask for a new building or a new addition to the capitol, that suitable quarters have not already been provided. Within the last few years, at least, congress would probably have provided new offices for the court at any time had the members of the court united in asking that they be built. But the members of the Supreme court, though not infrequently exercising the vast power of declaring acts of congress invalid, are peculiarly unwilling to ask any favors of house or senate.

Chief Justice Taft, who as president came into close contact with congress, has at times since he went on the bench gone before the committees of congress to express his views on legislation, but as a rule the members of the court shrink from it.

For sixty-four years, or since 1859, the Supreme court has occupied its present quarters in a part of the capitol. Prior to 1859 the court sat in what is now the law library, directly underneath its present meeting place. When the senate went into its new chamber in 1859, the chamber it now occupies, the Supreme court moved up one floor and took over most of the offices which it now occupies. The quarters of the Supreme court, therefore, have a surpassing historic interest and importance, though they are at the same time cramped, rather dingy and by no means commensurate with the court's necessities.

Do Much Work at Home.

Oddly enough, the justices who sit in this court do most of their work at their homes. They do not have chambers or individual offices at the capitol. Associate Justice Pitney was the first member of the court to have chambers in the house. He had been a member of the house and knew the advantages of having an office at the capitol. Associate Justice Sutherland, formerly in the senate, has followed him in taking chambers in the capitol. Otherwise, the members of the court do their work at their homes. When former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey was in the senate, he succeeded in getting a number of rooms on the third floor of the capitol set aside as chambers for members of the court, but they were not immediately occupied by the jurists and in a little while the senators had annexed back nearly all the rooms they had given up.

The court keeps all of its records and documents. None are willingly destroyed, although a fire in 1898 did destroy some of them. These records occupy a great deal of space and tend to add to the congestion. Conditions are such that on ordinary days of the court—each Monday while the court is in session—the offices of the court are swamped with attorneys, attaches, newspaper men and others, and things are about as packed as in a good old-fashioned office of a justice of the peace when a first-class neighborhood dispute is being fought out.

About Inbreeding.

The general belief that the intermarriage of related individuals tends to produce low grade mentalities and inherent physical defects in offspring is contradicted by recent investigations carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture, husbandry division.

Inbreeding and cross breeding of guinea pigs showed that inbred families produced comparatively few abnormal individuals.—Popular Science Monthly.

Remarkable Cherry Tree.

On the banks of the Skomish river, near Bremerton, Wash., is a cherry tree said to be in its ninety-first season of fruition. The cherry tree is more than six feet through at the base and its branches are estimated to cover more feet.

Leading the World

Today I read An article By a prominent Manufacturer From Decatur, Ill. Telling of a trip He had taken With his wife and daughter Thru Europe and The Holy Land. And he had stopt At the best hotels In the different towns And cities he visited And he said that They are away behind The good U. S. A. In Plumbing Fixtures And Sanitation And it made me glad That I lived here And had a part In this great work That means so much Of Health and Happiness And Comfort too To everybody in This good land of ours. And I was glad That the Plumbers And the Manufacturers Of Plumbing Goods Have not been satisfied With second place But have forged ahead And put our country At the Head of the World In Sanitation. Because As I see it They have done a man's part In making our country The best place In which to live. And if we can help Anyone To improve their condition We should be glad of it. And we are.

SEEKING MEN HERE FOR REGULAR ARMY

Requests for help in recruiting men for the regular army have been received by Salem members of the officers reserve corps from Robert C. Davis, adjutant general of the U. S. Army.

The adjutant general asks that all former officers and those now in the reserve assist the recruiting division of the army which is at the present time badly handicapped because of limited funds and facilities.

During the present fiscal year, Gen. Davis says, there will be separated from the army some 74,000 enlisted men mostly on account of the expiration of their terms of service. Of these about 50,000 will be separated by Jan. 1, 1924. Many of these men enlisted through the efforts of reserve officers when they were in the regular army during the war.

The authorized strength of the army is 125,000 while the actual strength at present is but 112,000. The problem of filling these vacancies is a big one and the war department, because it is impossible to send recruiting officers to every town due to lack of funds, decided to call on the reserve officers corps to assist them in their dilemma.

John Finds Woods Not Full Of Girls Looking For Mate

Chicago, July 25.—John Brown is as good looking as a vacation with full pay. He has one of the most pleasant dispositions to be found grazing west of New Foundland. And he's strong, too. Shells peanuts with his bare hands and all that sort of business.

He wears good clothes besides. As a steel worker, John makes a tidy little living.

Certainly a good catch for any girl. But, the thing that makes him irresistible is that he's an acrobat.

Handsprings, forward and backward somersaults, walking on his hands, giant swings—all that stuff's taffy for John Brown. No woman in her right mind could push a chap like that out into the rainy night.

Still, for some reason or other, the fish aren't biting. At least not in big gulps.

The gifted acrobat appeared today at the marriage license bureau and asked the clerk if he had any spare girls in the stock room.

"I like 'em between 17 and 19," John said. "And not weighing more than 130 pounds."

Well, if you follow him, but not bulgy.

The clerk told him sorry, but he was just out. Not a girl on the shelf.

"I've been looking for a wife for two years," Brown complained. "I can spare a few hours today."

He tarried about quite a bit, but every girl that appeared had a prospective husband along. John reluctantly departed, promising to be back Saturday.

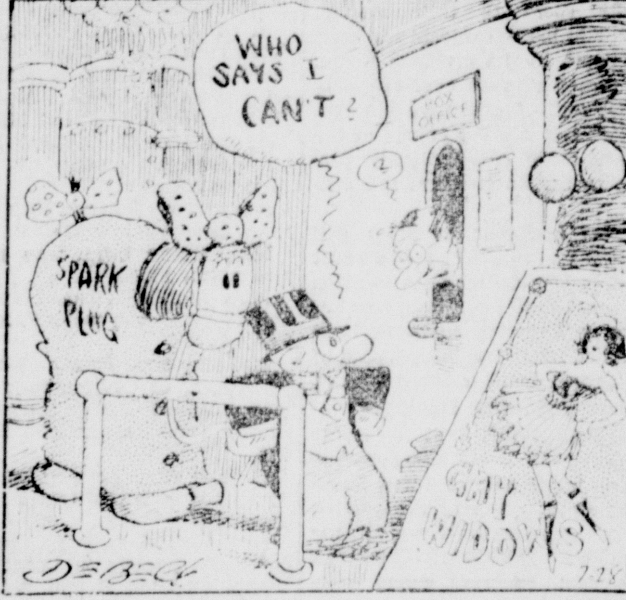

Now a man like he can roam around two years without being snowed under with proposals is a thing the entire license office cannot understand.

TAX REFERENDUM VOTE IS ASSURED

Petitions Filed By Real Estate Body Carry 112,000 Names.

Columbus, July 25.—Petitions to submit the Taft and Albaugh tax bills, passed by the last session of the Ohio legislature, to a referendum vote in this state next November were filed today with the secretary of state John E. McCrehen, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards.

The petition asking a referendum on the Taft bill contained 112,000 names and the Albaugh petition 111,000. Only 97,548 are required by the constitution. Signatures of the petitions were from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Akron, Dayton, Youngstown, Springfield, Sandusky and Marietta.

Cost Put At Million
The two bills were passed by the general assembly in what was said to be an effort to relieve the financial situation in many Ohio cities.

A statement by Mr. McCrehen said that the estimated cost of the new plan would be approximately $1,000,000 annually. "Practically all advocacy for this measure has been inspired by Cincinnati," the statement said.

"The realtors of Ohio served notice on the members of the general assembly that unless something constructive was adopted the make-shift

LEETONIA CHURCH PLANS SUBMITTED

Lutherans Will Build New Structure On Site Of Present Building.

Leetonia, July 25.—St. Paul's Lutheran church will soon have the long looked for church building. The second set of blue prints has been received from the architect and appear very satisfactory to the congregation.

The plans in all likelihood will be approved by those in charge and the detailed drawings and specifications will be completed.

The plans provide for a beautiful edifice, and will stand forth as a tribute to those who helped build the structure.

The new church home will stand on the site of the present building at the corner of Spruce and Somer sts. It will be a rather long structure, rectangular in shape, with a high stone tower rising from the ground at the front right corner.

In the center of the front will be a wide entrance with a window above it. No other windows will be built in the front of the building and only a few along the sides. Galleries in the rear of the church will be reached by stairways from the tower.

500 Miles in 442 Minutes
AVERAGE 67 1/2 MILES PER HOUR

An Oakland Six on June 3rd, raced around the famous Cotati Speedway, near San Francisco, California, for 500 continuous miles in 442 consecutive minutes!

Terrific Pace Proves Oakland's Stamina and Endurance

Traveling at the record-breaking speed of 67.7 miles per hour—an Oakland Six again demonstrated its wonderful stamina and endurance. Such a gruelling pace is more than a test of speed! It proves that the Oakland chassis is so sturdily built that it can withstand tremendous speed continuously for nearly eight hours—without injurious effects—without strain—without breaking.

Coupled with Oakland's recent winning, for the second consecutive time, of the Yosemite Valley Run—the nation's leading Economy Contest—this newest feat offers added evidence that Oakland is building "the finest light six".

See the splendid Oakland Six today! Let us tell you how easily you can acquire one on Oakland's Special Payment Plan.

EVERY ONE NEEDS HEALTH EXAM OHIO EXPERT DECLARES

By FRANK G. BORDEAU,
Chief, Ohio Division of Communicable Diseases

How many people need health examinations? How many apparently healthy people are really healthy? How much good will the annual health examination be to the average apparently healthy person. These questions suggest themselves to those who have read of the nation-wide campaign to interest the people of this country and state in the annual inventory of their physical assets and liabilities.

The first answer to these questions is found in the examination of young men for army service during the war. Over 30 per cent of those in the prime of life were unfit for army service. The results of these examinations did not tell the whole story. Many of those who were accepted for army service had mild defects and incipient illnesses which did not unfit them for service, but would shorten their lives if allowed to continue untreated.

A more detailed answer may be given after consideration of the results of examining 955 apparently well persons in New York. These people thought they were perfectly healthy. They knew of no illness or defect, no disease producing habit, no infraction of the rules of hygiene; yet only 24, or 2.5 per cent, were found to be in good health. All the rest, 934, needed definite medical treatment or hygienic advice to correct or arrest existing errors of bodily function or defects of structure. Definite medical treatment was needed by 697, or 72 per cent of the whole number, and 261 or 25.5 needed hygienic advice.

The most important defects found were as follows: Dental, 56 per cent; vision, 35 per cent; diseased tonsils and adenoids, 33 per cent; disorders of the circulation, 30 per cent; and malnutrition, 17 per cent. Twenty-two cases of syphilis and 28 of suspected tuberculosis were found.

The best part of this examination is that all these defects and hygienic errors were found before the defect, disease or hygienic error had progressed so far as to be incurable or to lead to some serious condition.

The average patient with tuberculosis does not consult a physician until the disease has progressed so far as to be incurable. By means of annual health examinations, tuberculosis and other conditions may be detected while still so mild as to respond to treatment.

How many people need these examination annually? How many apparently healthy people are really healthy? Only a small percentage of apparently healthy people are absolutely healthy; most of them require either medical treatment or hygienic advice. How much good will the annual health examination be to the average apparently healthy person? Annual health examinations, properly performed, mean life extension, something which is desired by every one, and for which large sums are offered when it is too late.

Who should make these examinations? Persons desiring such examinations should consult their family physicians, for only well trained and experienced physicians have at their disposal the resources of medical science which has done so much to free mankind from preventable disease within the last 25 or 30 years.

This is the golden rule of health, that a man shall safeguard his physical assets as carefully as he watches his financial investments and that the annual inventory of physical assets and liabilities shall never be forgotten.

Have you had your health examination this year?

Her first was a marriage of convenience—to a man lured by her physical charms, whom she left for dead on the evening of her wedding.
Her second was a love match—to an ambitious young lawyer. After a child had come to complete her happiness, and when her husband is about to realize his life's ambition, a man strongly resembling her first husband becomes a member of her household. Then—the rest is a story with a touch of mystery leading to a climax which is fascinating in its dramatic intensity and startling revelations. You'll never guess the ending!
